From the editor.....

Happy September!

When I started in dog sports nearly 30 years ago, nothing was online. I waited for MBF to send premiums in the mail and subscribed to newsletters like the Dixie Dog Calendar. Then computers came of age, and everything migrated to online. We learned to navigate the websites as we went along and discovered new sites to find and enter our chosen events.

You would think new people have it easy in today's world—all this information at their fingertips. You would be wrong to believe this. I think it's even more confusing now. I check nearly 150 websites for events when I prepare this magazine each month. Some active clubs never update their websites. MBF tries to list anything AKC, but they often have the dates wrong. Events get listed on FB without links to follow. It isn't easy to find the best information through the various websites. Thank you to those who make it easy. ShowEntries.info recently revamped their site, and it's much easier to navigate. Time to Fly Sports is probably the easiest to navigate. Flyball people..... you have my sympathies. Ugh

Hopefully, this magazine helps everyone. I do my best to find every event in every sport. Please let me know if you think I am missing a website for information. And please! Share this magazine with every new person to the sport. Let's make their life easier!

THANK you, as always, for reading and your support!

GA / Back to the "FUN"damentals Workshop with Jeannie Dennard 2-Day Workshop

Saturday & Sunday, October 7 & 8, 2023

Atlanta's Dogwood Obedience Group
Chamblee, GA

TOPICS • Attitude is Everything! The most important thing to me is building the "right" training relationship by building the dog's "want to" attitude BEFORE adding the "have to". • Error-Free Training: I create the finished dog by building on success, not failure. • Balanced, Rewards-Based Training: I have control of the rewards and use them correctly to train and motivate to get the most out of my dog. • Focus on Fundamentals: I continue to focus on the foundational skills that make up the exercises throughout my dog's show career. My Back to the "FUN"damentals Workshop is geared to every level of trainer/dog teams.

"5 Things to Remember when you Fail"

I'm catching up on my real estate reading and found this list called "5 Things to Remember when you Fail". I think these 5 things apply to dog sports as well. Here is my revised version:

1. Enjoy the wins, but don't take the losses personally. Even the best-trained dog or most prepared handler will have an off day. It happens. Take each experience, good and bad, and learn from it.
2. Strive for something more than awards. It feels really, really good to be recognized for your hard work. But it is also a blessing just to be out there competing with your dogs. I've dealt with dog aggression, mobility issues, and fear with several of my dogs. Awards are nice, but I truly appreciate how hard it is to even get a dog in the ring. Enjoy the ride and strive for your own personal best. Don't worry about what other people do
3. Recognize when things are beyond your control. You cannot control your environment, and you can't train for every situation. All you really can control is how you, yourself, react to things that are outside of your control. Handle unexpected events with grace. It can be challenging. I've failed in this many times, but handling things outside your control with grace and humor will get you further toward your goals.
4. Take a break. Sometimes it can be very healthy to step back and take a break. You get burned out. Your dog gets burned out. Sometimes a break is needed to rest, recharge, recalibrate and reevaluate what you are doing and what you need to do going forward. I have always found that my dogs bounce back better after a break.
5. It's not about you. Well, it is, in part. But it's also about your dog and your relationship. If your dog isn't enjoying this time together, why are you doing it? Find something they do enjoy. Find what turns THEM on and do that! Not every dog is cut out for every sport.

Pictured is my Tripp, who was born with a deformed foot. We did what we could, but when he told me he wasn't having fun, we stopped. He enjoys couch time instead :-)

Deep thoughts from Toke...

Peace and love, man!
Let's spread good vibes everywhere
we go! That's all I ever try to do but Ma Person says that wavey gravy can be spread with all 4 feet on the ground. But that's not fun! Leaping in her face and licking her nose while we are in front of a judge should be extra points. Am I right? I'm just spreading my love Ma and you are my favorite one to spread it to!

Sincerely, - Toke

Brags!

WOW!

Jenny Davis and Maisie had a good weekend at Lake Logan obtaining her CAA or Coursing Ability rosette.

She ran a 28.17 100 yard dash (Fast Cat) today! Thanks to Western NC Dog Fanciers and Time to Fly Sports for putting on such a fun event!

Just a few weeks earlier, Maisie competed at Happy Dogs Training Center in Wellford, SC and received a first place and her Rally Intermediate title.

Thank you, Selina Edney, Jane Johnson and all the Companion Dog Training family for your help!

"WagHab's custom programs work wonders for dogs rehabbing from injuries. They also help dogs maintain strength and agility as they get older, while improving their sport performance and general well-being. Megan is extremely attentive and dedicated to each patient in her care. We are so lucky to have her and WagHab right here in Asheville!" <https://waghab.com/>

New NC / Wagging Tails Massage

Asheville area - Lynn Hurley, the owner of Wagging Tails Massage, had a rescue Pit Bull named Bob with advanced elbow arthritis. She found that massaging him helped him tremendously, and she wanted to provide the same healing to other dogs. In 2023 she received her CCMT certification from Brandenburg Massage Therapy in Ohio. Lynn provides a mobile service in the greater Asheville area as well as working at agility events throughout the Southeast. Lynn goes at a dog's own pace – providing them with whatever they need at that moment. Some dogs need help with stress and anxiety, some need support following an injury or surgery. Other dogs need support for athletic activities, whether that is competition or just everyday play and exercise.

Canine massage provides the following:

- Loosens muscles & connective tissue, improves flexibility & range of motion.
- Increases circulation, flushes toxins & boosts the immune system
- Reduces stress & anxiety
- Aids in recovery by reducing pain & swelling which promotes healing

Alchemy Dog Training

Have you ever thought about dancing with your dog?

Atlanta Kennel Club is proud to sponsor a Canine Freestyle Federation DogWorks seminar and workshop, with CFF all-levels judge Julia Gregory teaching it.

There are only 8 working team slots - grab one while you can. There are 25 audit slots, so if you and your dog aren't quite ready for fancy footwork, then come and learn about a sport that takes you beyond rally, agility, and obedience and into a sport based on musical freestyle dressage.
